KENTUCKY STATE LOAN REPAYMENT PROGRAM

OVERVIEW

Since 2003, the Kentucky State Loan Repayment Program (KSLRP) has served as a recruitment and retention tool to reduce health workforce shortages in rural and underserved locations throughout the state. Applicants selected to participate in the competitive program are required to commit to working full time for two years, providing primary care services at an eligible site in the state. Participants receive tax-free student loan repayment in exchange for their service commitment.

ELIGIBLE SITES

Eligible practice sites (public or non-profit private entities) include:

- Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs)

LOAN REPAYMENT

Loan repayment offered through the KSLRP is based on a 50/50 match: For every federal dollar provided by the KSLRP, participants must have a 1:1 match from a sponsor source. Sponsors can include employers at the practice site; private foundations, corporations, community organizations, and/or philanthropies; and, rurally-oriented organizations requesting that their funds be used to support the placement of practitioners in rural areas.

If an applicant's employer is providing the matching funds, the employer must agree that the funds will not be used as a salary offset. And, when agreeing to provide the matching funds, the sponsor may not add additional service obligations to the applicant.

Participants are awarded funding in a tiered format, based on their provider type, level of loan indebtedness, and sponsor commitment level. Maximum award amounts for a two-year commitment are as follows:

- Physicians, Dentists, Pharmacists: $80,000
- PAs, NPs, CNMs, Behavioral and Mental Health Specialists: $40,000
- RNs, RDHs, Alcohol and Substance Abuse Counselors: $20,000
